Identifying unqualified candidates quickly during the recruiting process will save you time and money. It is a well known fact that recruiting the right people in any business leads to success; yachting is no different.

Yachting is a luxury industry with high profile clients, who require safety, security, privacy and confidentiality.

Hiring the wrong candidate for a job that deals with, or is working for such high profile clients can lead to legal problems, damage to your reputation, loss of earnings and personal problems.

It is not the information that you know about someone that is important.....

it's the information you don't know that is.

Order a 7 East Ref-Verification™ & get the full picture.

The 7 East Ref-Verification™ is an comprehensive in-depth screening and formal assessment of candidates that includes;

a) the validity of certifications or/and of qualifications.

b) the relevance of the certifications or/and qualifications for the job.

c) the quality of the person giving the reference.

d) determining, wherever possible, how crew candidates actually behaved and performed in their past jobs.

There are three verification types to choose from:

Personal Ref-Verif.

For new/first season crew, with no previous professional yachting experience. Ideal for captains and crew agents that require an in-depth check of a candidate's references from their previous careers, including personal character reference checks.

Professional Ref-Verif.

For hiring experienced crew or newly qualified crew that are stepping-up. In-depth checks include reference givers, personal character behaviour, relevance of qualifications, previous job/s performance, professional capacity etc.

Executive Ref-Verif.

For hiring key crew; captains, chief engineers, chefs, chief steward/ess; this will give you a complete picture (as is possible) about your prospective candidate including their; previous job/s performance, professional capabilities, management skills, personal skills etc.
